

TERMINAL CANCELS VIRTUALLY ALL D. C. TRAIN SCHEDULES

Rubber Stamp in Red Across Time Tables Tells of Changes.

"JUGGLING" DENIED

Arrivals Marked "On Time" Are Written Slightly Late When Due.

With approximately 75 per cent of the trains arriving late at Washington Terminal and increasing numbers of locomotives and other railroad equipment awaiting repairs, the effect of the railway strike upon local conditions is becoming more noticeable daily.

Contrasted with regular schedules before the strike, the train arrival board at the Union Station shows in part evidence of deteriorated service. The regularity of departure of trains made up at this terminal could not be determined yesterday. Rail officials claim the usual schedule is being followed and strikers' accusations that many trains are leaving late.

Few trains that arrive at Union Station are marked "on time," while large numbers are reported late, ranging from one half hour to four, and some eight hours. The number of late trains, it is estimated, are between one half hour and one hour behind schedule.

Daily Reports Secret.

Terminal officials refuse to make public the daily report showing train schedules and actual time of arrival. They declare that the service is being maintained and that effects of the strike are hardly noticeable.

Officials also denied newspaper reports yesterday to the effect that the bulletin board showing train arrivals are being "juggled." Both the scheduled arrival and actual arrival of trains are posted, they said.

Time tables of some of the roads operating trains into Washington have been stamped to indicate that the printed schedules are not being followed. Schedule changes have been made since this folder was issued, consult ticket agents for information. It is the message stamped on one time table.

While rail officials refuse to discuss the situation, figures, sightseeing companies and taxi drivers report a marked decrease in the number of tourists. One official of a local company operating sightseeing buses estimated yesterday that tourist travel has decreased 40 per cent since the beginning of the strike.

Nearly all Trains Late.

Scouts from local strikers here are watching conditions here to claim that practically all trains coming from distant places are behind schedule. Local trains operating short distances are said to comprise the larger number of trains running on time.

Every effort, the scouts report, is being made to keep in good condition locomotives engaged in "long hauls." Engines in need of minor repairs, it is said, are assigned to local runs where they can be used to better advantage. "Bad engines" or those in need of extensive repair, the scouts say, are being stripped to furnish parts for other locomotives.

Charging that terminal officials are not disclosing the actual conditions in the local situation, strike leaders claim that the bulletin board at the Union Station is used deceptively. Trains are marked "on time," they declare, until shortly before the time for their arrival, when they are chalked up a few minutes late. Even though the train is an hour late, they charge, this fact is made known by gradually increasing the time. This is done, strikers say, to avoid the necessity of having the bulletin board display discrepancies in the schedule for long periods of time.

Terminal officials declare that there is no basis to such charges.

Warns Unions U. S. Tired of Murder

Postal Chief Excoriates Illinois for Riot at Herrin Coal Mines.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Illinois, and particularly the authorities of Williamson County, were excoriated today by Postmaster General Herbert Work in his address opening the Pageant of Progress on the Municipal Pier. Postmaster General Work was the official representative of the national administration and his attention was given his scathing remarks.

He said the massacre of helpless men at Herrin in June would have "shamed the painted Indian" and he rebuked the Illinois State administration for a lack of continuity of purpose and of law enforcement.

The Cabinet officer also included a warning to organized labor that the public is growing exceedingly weary of murders, bombings and grafting in the name of labor.

Mr. Work said he was in no position to criticize Congress and its work. He said he believes Congress is made up of earnest men, sensible to the wishes of their constituents and responsive to their appeals.

Mr. Work paid a fine tribute to American farmers for their sturdy in adjusting themselves rapidly to the changes after the war, taking their heavy losses uncomplainingly and going ahead, building on the new base.

Call Police to Quell Disturbance at Childs

Police were called last night to stop a battle at Childs Restaurant. The trouble started over an alleged insult to one of the diners.

As told the police, a young man and woman were eating at one of the tables. During a momentary absence of the young man several college men entered and were alleged to have insulted the woman. Upon the man's return the woman told of the insult and the fight ensued. No arrests have yet been made.

Attacked by Dog.

Attacked by a dog in front of his home, 1516 M street northwest, Lawrence Jackson, 30 years old, was bitten on his left hand yesterday afternoon. He was treated at the Emergency Hospital.

LAUDS FLAPPERS AT DINNER IN HONOR OF MISS GILLETT

Speaker Declares They Point Way to Freedom And Women's Rights.

"God Bless Flappers." This plea was made by Miss Sara Grogan, toastmistress at a dinner held at the Grace Dodge Hotel last night in honor of the 70th birthday of Miss Emma Gillett, dean of the Washington College of Law and the first woman notary public in the United States, while introducing Mrs. Ruth Havens, a classmate of hers.

"Mrs. Havens wore short skirts and short sleeves when the rest of the women of Washington were sweeping up the microbes from the streets with the hems of their dresses. She was not afraid to bob her hair, even the face of opposition by the press," Miss Grogan declared.

"Flappers," she continued, "break away from tradition and are free women, mentally, legally, and physically. We must thank God for flappers."

Miss Grogan asserted that she thought Mrs. Gillett deserved a place among the twelve greatest women of the country and that her work had been monumental.

SPRAGUE INSISTS SAWYER HALTED HOSPITAL PLANS

Legionary Declares President's Physician Misrepresents Quotation.

A statement accusing Brig Gen. Sawyer, personal physician to President Harding with having misrepresented his defense against accusations that he was opposed to the war veteran hospital building program, was issued by American Legion headquarters here last night.

A. A. Sprague, chairman of the national rehabilitation committee, declared Sawyer had misrepresented his quotations.

Sawyer, in his defense stated Sprague had told him he was not to blame for the delay in hospital construction. Sprague in his statement declared this quotation was only in reference to the first hospitalization bill, not the second which is now under consideration.

Again Makes Charge.

"I again charge that Gen. Sawyer has interfered with the building program under the second Langley bill," Sprague stated.

"His own words in his letter to me July 12 prove it. He writes that he thanks Heaven that the use of the millions of dollars under the second Langley bill is not mandatory; that mental cases can be well cared for in old navy barracks which are not fireproof."

"He also states that he is opposed to specialists' committees upon whose reports we base our program for care of mental cases. He also expresses the belief that if we will only use the hospitals we now have at our command, we would have in this country two particular districts."

Quoted His Telegram.

"I am informed that Gen. Sawyer has quoted a telegram sent by me to Frank Ryan of New York City on June 21, in which I say that Gen. Sawyer is not to be blamed for delay in hospital construction."

"This telegram was sent after a conference in Chicago between Gen. Sawyer and myself and was in response to the charge that he had slowed up the building program under the first Langley bill. This he could not do, for action had been so slow because of delays within the Treasury Department, that no further interference was possible."

DENTIST COLLECTS 15,000 DIME NOVELS

Scours Thirty States in Search Of Paper-Covered Literature.

NEW YORK, July 29.—"Deadeye Dick," "The Border Bandits," "Nick Carter" and "The Death's Head Riders" are among the dime novels that are being collected by a man who is respected occupant of the shelves of one of the most important libraries in the world and the finger of pride is pointed at them and some 14,996 of their companions.

There are postage stamp collectors and scrap iron collectors and bill collectors, but it took an Irish dentist with an office in the West Fortieth street slums of New York to think up the unique idea of a dime novel collection. It is now twenty years to complete it, but when he finished there were 15,000 volumes. And now they are where the little freckle-faced snub-nosed chap who like "Tjunsan an' robbers" can get at them, for Dr. Frank J. O'Brien, the red-haired fairy who has been hunting paper covered literature for so many years, has given the whole carload to the New York Public Library.

Dr. O'Brien scoured thirty States in his quest for dime thrillers, securing many, in particular, of the Beadle and Adams' period, 1859 to 1897. He backs up his favorites with the explanation that these dime novels are genuine reflections of history and that the worst part of them was generally the titles.

FATHER E. A. WALSH TO CONTROL PAPAL RELIEF FOR RUSSIA

Services of Washington Priest Recognized by Vatican.

WAS WITH U. S. R. A. President Creeden, of Georgetown, Gratified Jesuit Was Selected.

Selected by Pope Pius XI to take complete charge of the distribution of food supplies through the Papal Relief Mission, the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., of Georgetown University, announced here last night, will remain in Russia for at least another year.

Father Walsh was designated by the Vatican to supervise its work among the starving in Russia in recognition of his valuable services with the American Relief Mission during the last year. Dispatches from the Vatican praising his work and the efforts of the orders to Father Walsh to direct the Moscow headquarters, in co-operation with the government's work, were verified here.

Was Here in June.

As one of the officials of the American Relief Mission, Father Walsh returned to Washington in June on a secret mission to report to President Harding on conditions in Russia. He was likewise in conference with Secretary Charles E. Hughes and Secretary Herbert Hoover. He returned to Europe as quietly as he came, without the real purpose of his mission being divulged. He was taken to Moscow by the Russian government, where he was requested to report to the Pope in Rome with other officials of the newly organized Papal Relief Mission.

Food supplies and merchandise contributed through the Papal mission largely through the efforts of Alliance and the National Catholic Welfare Council in this country already have concentrated in Moscow and Constantinople. Father Walsh, who is director of the Moscow headquarters for all relief work in Russia, also has the task of assigning the members of the mission, of whom there are eleven, to the various centers, which include Moscow, Ekaterinburg, Rostov, the Saratov mission lands and Novorossiysk.

Pope Pius XI, it was learned here, has ordered a special section of the Vatican to be organized for dealing with the Russian relief activities of the Vatican.

Two Agencies to Co-operate.

When famine conditions in Russia were at their worst, the Vatican made efforts to furnish food and clothing to the suffering. The Soviet government, however, refused to allow the mission a free hand. Further negotiations, however, finally resulted in having the relief work placed on the same basis as that of the American Relief Mission. The two will co-operate in every possible way. In order to carry out the Catholic duty to conditions in Russia, the letter to the patriarchs, archbishops and bishops, urging renewed efforts to aid the starving, in this letter it was stated that the Holy See will make a further contribution of 2,500,000 lire for the Russian relief work.

McCoy Declines Role as Solomon

Prisoner Offers to Return To Either Wife Justice Designates.

Expressing a willingness to return to his wife and baby, whom he deserted for another woman, Marion Freshour pleaded guilty to charges of bigamy and grand larceny yesterday before Chief Justice McCoy in Criminal Court No. 1. The cases were referred to the probation officer for investigation.

The chief justice stated it rested with Mrs. Catherine Freshour, the first wife, to decide whether or not she wanted her husband back. Freshour then stated he could be willing to go back to any one of his wives if the court would say which one. With a broad grin, Chief Justice McCoy remarked that King Solomon had been dead for thousands of years and he therefore retained today to decide such a difficult question.

The record shows that Freshour deserted his wife and eloped with Bertha Harris, a dancing instructor, and was arrested in Richmond, Va., while on his honeymoon. He was also charged with the theft of $68 belonging to Arthur W. Kummer, of 127 F street northwest, where Freshour had been employed as caretaker.

DISCARD THOSE TERRIBLE SICK HEADACHES

Violent, sick headaches are a symptom of some disorder, and in nine cases out of ten, the cause is auto-intoxication. This is an accumulation of toxins or body poisons. They tell you they are there by dizziness, nausea and pain.

First of all, you would relieve the pain and the greatest means of combating pain is aspirin. It is not a narcotic drug, but it takes alone, it very often affects the digestion.

To prevent this, the new genuine aspirin has added to it a mild detergent that overcomes the objections to ordinary aspirin. Within ten minutes the pain has disappeared.

Now for the cause. TINGLES' LAXO ASPIRIN assures permanent relief by attacking the cause. A gentle laxative is included with the aspirin and digestant. This thoroughly cleanses the body of waste and brings about instant, abiding relief.

Physicians recommend it because it safely, sanely brings immediate relief. Remember to ask for TINGLES' LAXO ASPIRIN with the three points:

- It's absorbed easily
- It relieves pain quickly
- It's a gentle laxative
